Star of the Week

GEORGE A

for being so enthusiastic about EVERYTHING this week!

Well Done!

History Trip

To support our History Topic on Toys we shall be going on a trip to Newarke House Museum in Leicester, on Wednesday 12th October. We shall leave school around 9.30am and be back just before home time. The cost for this trip will be £7 per child (this is to cover coach travel and our own room at the museum for lunch). You will be able to pay this on Parent Pay. If you wish your child to go please can you pay by Friday 7th October at the latest. Children who do not go will still be required to attend school on that day.

Core Values Day

We started our week with a very special Core Values Day in school. This day was a whole school event where the children got to explore some of the Core Values that make up our school Mission Statement. We were very lucky to work with our friends in Class 3 exploring the values of 'Having Fun,' 'Developing Creativity' and 'Supporting Our Community.' We were able to link all 3 of these values together and have lots of fun creating art and songs which we then shared with the residents of Kingsfield Court. We had a lovely day!

The children (and the residents) enjoyed the visit to Kingsfield Court so I am going to look at us going again in the future.

Next week we shall be starting to feel slightly festive as we work on our Christmas card designs. These are very special Christmas cards though! When your child has created their design they will bring them home, and you will then be able to have their design made into actual cards, gift wrap or even gifts! We do, however, need to send them off before half term, hence the reason for the early festivities...although, Mr. Wright thinks it's never too early for a spot of Christmas!

Homework

This week's homework is linked to our History work. This week we have been looking at Victorian toys. One of the most popular toys of that era was a thaumatrope. For your homework I would like you to make a thaumatrope. You will need some scissors and some string.

There is also a Story Time With Jesus which links to the work we have been doing in RE, all about how God cares for everyone and everything.
